ABOUT PARTNERSYEMEN

Partners Yemen is a non-profit, non-governmental organization that began its work in Yemen since 2009 as an international organization. In response to changes and contexts, the organization has transformed into a local organization, carrying the financial, technical, and knowledge history of the international organization. The organization has a long history of building trust and working with local stakeholders, regional and international donors for over a decade. Partners Yemen is in a unique position to work with communities and local authorities throughout Yemen to resolve conflicts, restore service delivery systems, and important governance; lead conflict-sensitive peacebuilding initiatives; and reach out to the most marginalized and vulnerable groups to ensure their voices are heard, their needs are met, and they have fair access to vital resources. The organization also works to empower and build the capacities of government and non-governmental organizations working in the field of development, conflict transformation, non-violence promotion, violence mitigation, youth and women engagement in cooperative societies and entrepreneurship, service provision, facilitating labor market entry, and reintegrating youth during and after conflict. As well, it supports the peacebuilding process, accountability, reconciliation, justice, and enhances partnership structures between sectors.

VISION

A leading Yemeni organization in civil society development, peacebuilding, inclusion and community stabilization.

MISSION

To expand the identity of Partners Yemen locally and internationally, strengthen institutional capacity, expand and diversify areas of response, identify and address urgent needs and issues, develop partnerships to enhance stability and peace, and ensure inclusivity by engaging all community groups, with a particular focus on women, youth, and underrepresented groups.

OUR GOALS

1

Building and strengthening structures and bridges of stable, effective, and impartial partnerships at the local and national levels that fully adhere to the legal and literary terms of reference of the INGOs/NGO's actions.

5

Contributing to the construction of legal community structures that work to improve the reception and management of development aids and reduce the effects of its conflicts and involve young people and women in community work, advocacy, modern and old mediation, and empowerment in accordance with the best quality.

2

Strengthening partnership bridges with international and local actors, including the international network of partners, the Yemeni Government, non-governmental civil actors and local democratic structures to build strategies, and design and implement integrated, realistic, efficient, and quality action programs.

6

Working collaboratively with the formal structures responsible for providing security, justice, and conflict transformation services by focusing on the development of the legislations and laws supporting the idea of mediation, negotiation, arbitration, and reconciliation.

3

Expanding and developing the Organization's institutional work base and building its capacities to make it structurally flexible and diverse, adhering to international standards for the international community organizations WORKS supporting the Country and embodying the tripartite partnership between the Country, the private sector, and the civil sector.

7

Enhancing societies' ability to contribute positively to development and spreading awareness and a positive culture that contributes to strengthening the relationship between Country institutions and society so as to lead to a closer and more realistic response to needs.

4

Responding to stakeholders including; "Government, funders, partners, vulnerable and target populations and NGO partners".

8

Improving the knowledge and expertise base of modern and old conflict management, strengthening the role of civil society, volunteering, available peace resources, and conflict transformation.

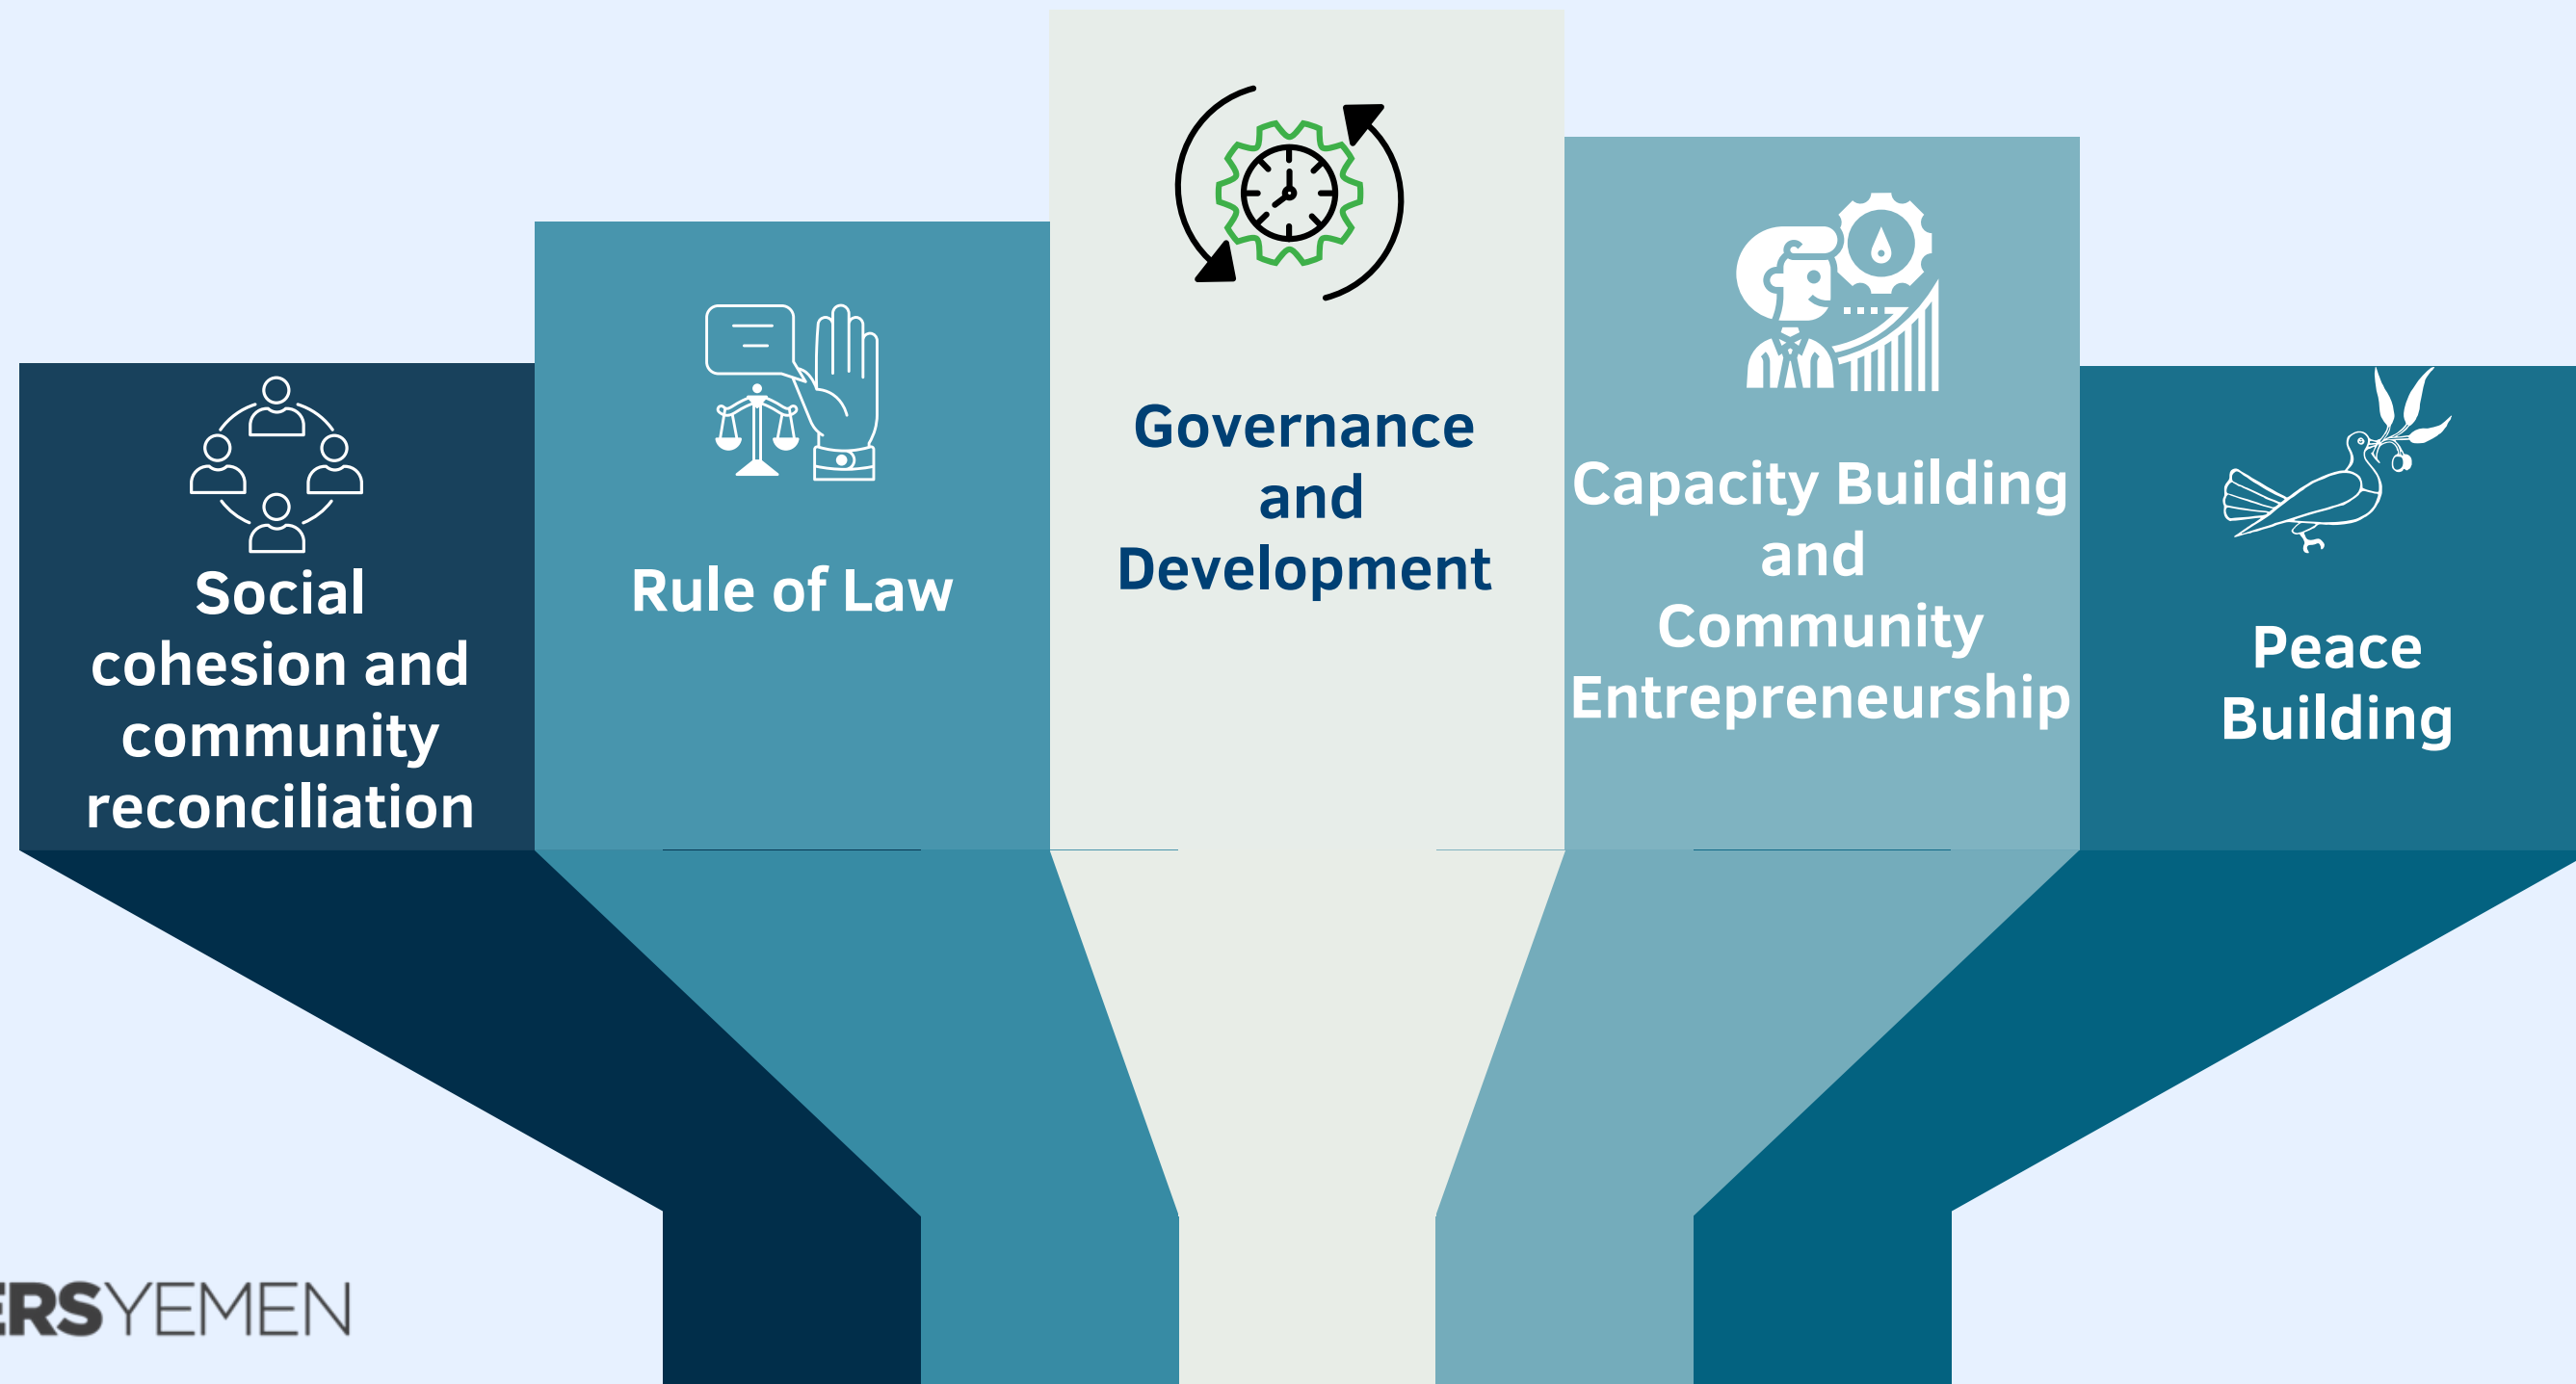

9

Preventing the impact of conflicts and crises on resources, development, society, and peacebuilding, stimulating its stability and development, and facilitating broader civic engagement.

OUR SUCCESS

We have implemented more than $10 million in programming for a variety of international donors in the most hard-to-reach areas of the country and have proven their capacity to adapt programs in a challenging and unpredictable environment, including during the country's 2011 transition and the current conflict and pandemic.

We work through a network of over 50 trusted local civil society organizations across 17 governorates in the North and South that have the ability to:

- ✓ Rapidly begin program activities;
- ✓ Understand security risks and ensure that activities can be implemented safely;
- ✓ Continuously operate, despite shifting local dynamics;
- ✓ Recognize local cultural practices.
